Dear Honorable Judge Willett:

I embarked on the journey of obtaining a graduate degree as a means for self-advancement. With the different advertisements and promises of higher pay and better paying job, I selected the University of Phoenix. As the first person in my immediate family to graduate from college with a bachelor's degree, my attendance to University of Phoenix would have been recognized as a major milestone.

The University of Phoenix engaged in unfair practices, there was a pressure and urgency to take student loans, tuition was always increasing and there was fraudulent charges and practices. There was a push for job placement guarantees and salary expectations that was totally bogus. I have attached an e-mail from University of Phoenix for your review.

I am one of the earlier students that brought up charges against University of Phoenix. Exactly how was the time period selected for the University of Phoenix settlement? The time frame selected was surely after most of us have graduated from University of Phoenix. This time frame does not cover the students who brought up charges against University of Phoenix. This is an injustice to me and other students.

The use of deceptive advertising caused harm to me and no advancement in my career. I would like a full investigation. Because of the discriminatory practice, push to take student loans, misleading information, deceiving, defrauding and false charges, I want total discharge of my student loans. I look forward to hearing from you pertaining to this matter.

Sincerely,

Paula Matthew
